THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

It is good from time to time to think about life, about how we arrived here, and where we are going. It does not take much thought to arrive at the conclusion that life is a gift and each one of us is a bundle of gifts. God has given to all of us the gift of life. Each of us has received a number of gifts and talents peculiar to ourselves. God has given us responsibility for these features of our make-up, to develop them and bring them to fruition and to use on behalf of one another and the world where we live.

The parable of the talents has a telling message in this Sunday's Gospel. The man who received five talents made five more. He was highly commended by his master. "Well done, good and faithful servant; you have shown you can be faithful in small things, I will trust you with greater; come and join in your master's happiness". A second man received two talents. He made two more. His master commends him with the same words. The third servant received one talent. He went off and hid it in the ground, came back and returned it to his master. His talent was taken from him and given to the man who had the five talents. This man failed to do anything with his gift and was appropriately punished.
