THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Have you ever felt like you have nothing left to give? We all have times when we feel as though we do not have "enough" to offer, whether it's time, money, energy, or even love. When work is busy, we don't have enough time for family. When we are physically or emotionally exhausted at the end of a long day, we might not have the energy to play with our children or visit a friend. In the face of suffering in our own society and around the world, we often feel helpless—whatever small amount of time or money we can give will never be enough.

But where we see "not enough", God sees potential. What we see as a small contribution is not small to God, if it is all we have to give, and it is given with love. "All we have with us is five loaves and two fish" say the disciples to Jesus—a tiny offering when faced with a giant task. But Jesus takes what they have, blesses it, and uses it to give sustenance to thousands. In the face of human limitations, God can do plenty.

We are told at the start of today's reading that Jesus "took pity" on the large crowd that followed him. They have been out all day and are hungry, not to mention tired. They are so engrossed in listening to Jesus that time has slipped away. They are running on empty, and I'm sure they would be dismayed, if as the disciples suggest, they had to hike to the nearest village to buy food. Jesus understands their exhaustion and hunger, their limitations and their "not enough." What they have to give is inadequate, but he can do more with it than they could ever have imagined. We too are limited in what we have to offer. But whatever we can give—to our families and friends, to those in need—God sees and blesses and multiplies.

"Give something however small, to one in need. For it is not small to one who has nothing. Neither is it small to God, if we have given what we could." St Gregory of Nazianzus
 -Jane Mellett

THE HOOK OF FAITH THIS WEEK

During the lockdown, the Church needed to strike a balance between compliance to government restrictions and the call to be faithful to her mission. This week's interview with journalist David Quinn investigates how successful was this balance found. We feature the launch of the Diocesan Lay Vocations Council who will promote vocations to the priesthood and religious life in our diocese and the latest podcast on trusting God from a new Catholic website www.frgministry.com. The homily for this Eighteenth Sunday of Ordinary time is on the miracle of the loaves and fish followed by an article on encountering God through nature by Sean O' Leary. Finally, our video this week is on the extraordinary life of St John Vianney, patron saint of parish priests whose feast day falls this week. Check out these and other resources available at www.thehookoffaith.com
